THE SENIOR THEME WAS "ROAD TO THE FUTURE--FEEL THE DRIVE". THE SENIOR SIGN WAS DESIGNED BY RESIDENT ARTIST BROCK ENRIGHT. THE TRICYCLE ON THE SIGN HAS BEEN INTERPRETED AS A SYMBOL OF WHAT THE GRADUATING SENIORS USED TO BE.

P.S. Thanx for Renting Me as A Senior. Makes me feel like I really do have a friend. But I really do think I was worth more than a dollar.

DO NOT REMOVE FROM LIBRARY

Class of '69

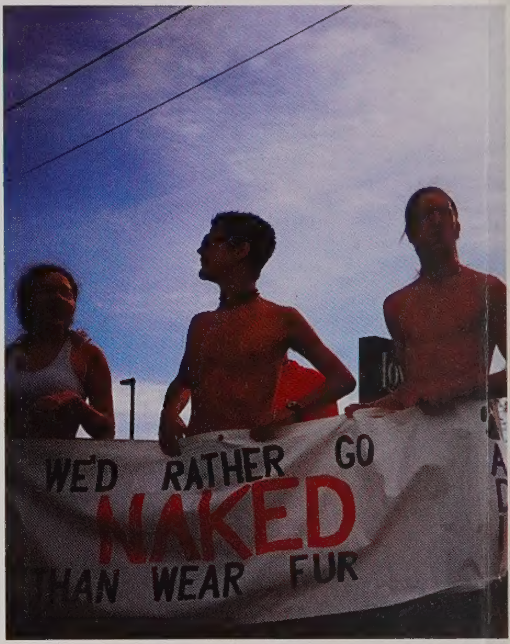
WATER HAS ITS LIMITS
CONSERVE

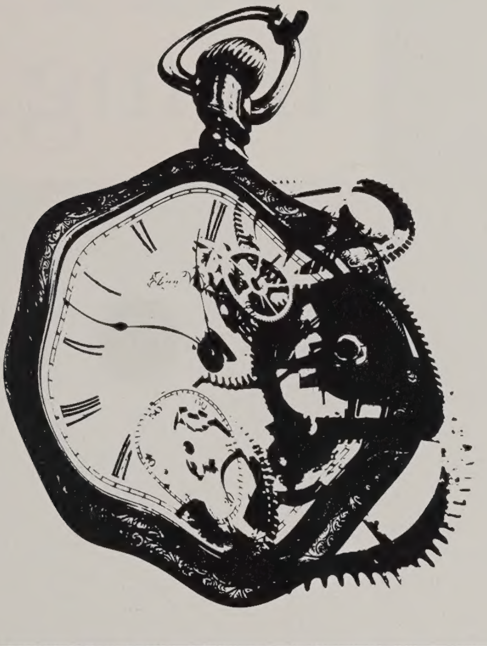


It's About Time Someone Did Something. Bryant McMillan and his friends protested in front of Lowenthal Furriers, across from the Central Library on numerous occasions to get their message across to the masses. This time they went semi-nude and they definitely got their point across.

It's About Time We Reached Thirty! The Class of '69 Trolley drove around the track with the rest of the Homecoming floats this year. For many of the former students, it was the first time they had returned to the school in a long while and were surprised at all of the changes.

It's About Time The School Got A Face-lift But At What Cost... The school had an addition built on to it throughout the year and a new parking lot. Unfortunately, numerous trees that had been here for years had to be cut down in order for any building could start.

IT'S ABOUT TIME



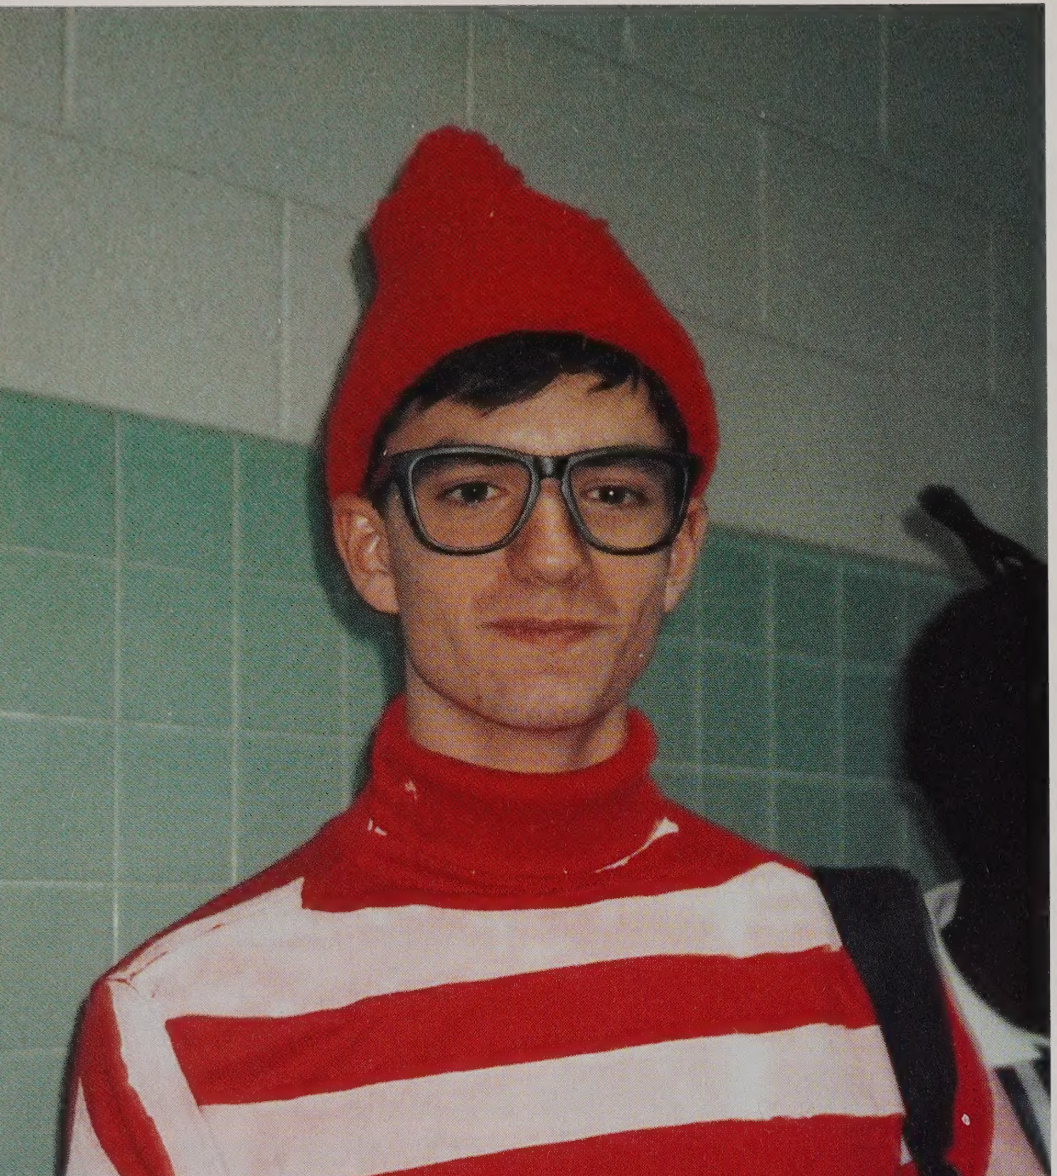
It's About Time They Taught Her To Drive! Allison Herbert and Lisa Gambito show why teenagers shouldn't get their licenses until after they're out of their teens. No need to worry though . . . it was only a prop from the senior float they helped to build.

As one walks through the halls of Bayside it becomes harder to believe that there was a time when the school didn't exist. For thirty years Bayside Pride has reigned in the Beach District. It took thirty years for us to reach this milestone and IT'S ABOUT TIME.

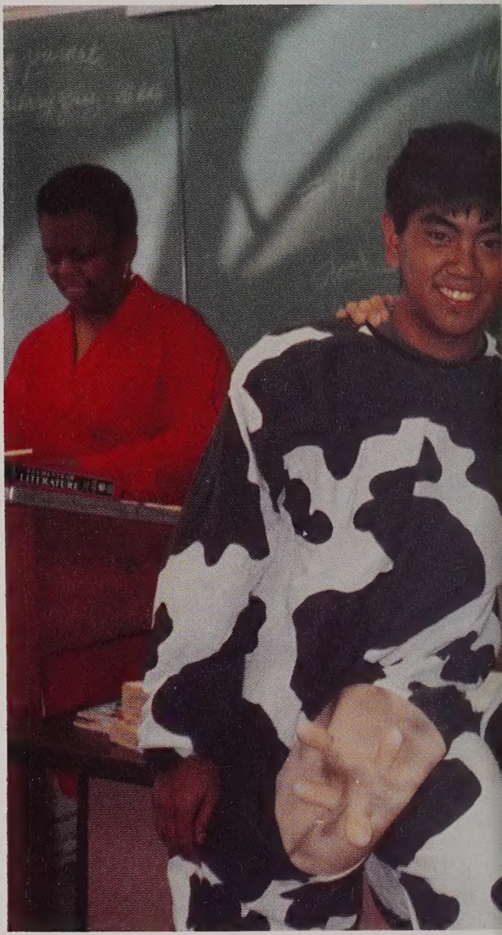
It has been only four years since Bayside Junior High became Bayside Middle School. It was then that this years graduating class made the big leap to high school and became the first freshmen in the school since 1975. It took twenty three years for freshmen to reenter the school and IT WAS ABOUT TIME. Now after four years of living as one giant family, IT'S ABOUT TIME that we spread out and share our family philosophy with others.

IT'S ABOUT TIME that all of the underclassmen set their sight on something that will take them to the places they desire to be.

IT'S ABOUT TIME.



It's not about just living...



Where's Waldo ? During Spirit Week Mike Maraghy dressed as Waldo, without his dog, and handed out candy to students.

Cows go Moo. Donny Rivera, Lisa Gambito, and Michelle Lucero spread their Homecoming cheer by dressing as cows on Twin Day.

It's About Having A Life

A Student's Life has more to it than just adjusting to their surroundings and fitting in with others. What it's really about is being an individual, taking the time to explore all the possibilities and opportunities that await us.

Is there life ...

After Hours ?

Is there life outside of school? Free from the stress of homework , exams, and essays? Without the hassle of teachers and the overcrowded halls. ?

The answer is a resounding "Yes." Many students find time to juggle school, homework, and the other things they enjoy doing such as work, protest, serve in the community or just relax with friends.

Bryant McMillan finds refuge in skateboarding and doing his part to stop the animal holocaust. John Leland plays volley ball in his free time. And it is always a safe bet that you'll run into a Bayside student at Taco Bell.

Also, many students have jobs. There are numerous places to work--from waiting tables to selling shoes and even working at Western Auto. Regardless of the place of employment everyone has the same goal-- a paycheck. While many students spend their money on clothes, movies and food, a few students actually save their money for future endeavors.

No matter what each student does during the hours after school, they are busy and definitely well spent.

Katrin Schriber , Cynthia Miranda, Brian Rautenberg, and Mike Maraghy spend their time at the Homecoming game to balance their time between school and real life.

College here we come. Cynthia Miranda, Michelle Lucero, Beth Holbrook, Lisa Gambito, Donny Rivera, and Marc Ferrara traveled to the University of Virginia to get a better perspective of the school. They took time to see the many tourist attractions in and around the city, even stopping to take pictures on the steps of Monticello.

Back to the beach! Through the years the beach has always been a place that most students prefer to hang out during their free time. This is true for Robert Holbrook who spends most of his free time at the beach surfing with his friend from Princess Anne.

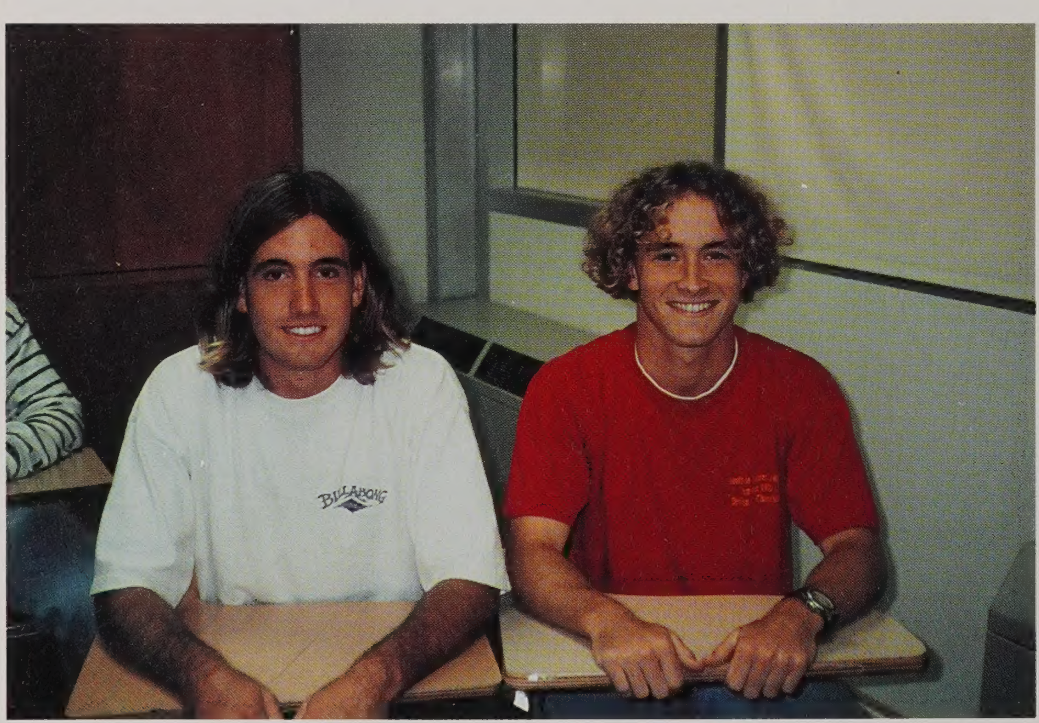
Everyone wants to be a cheerleader . . . Allison Herbert, Donny Rivera, Lisa Gambito, Michelle Lucero, and Beth Holbrook pile on top of each other in an attempt to make a pyramid. They were working on the float, but still had enough time to enjoy themselves.

Friends Forever

Who do you call for moral support or when you need a shoulder to cry on? Who do you confide your deepest secrets in? Who do you spend 99% of your time with? Who else but your friend ?

The dictionary defines friend as a favorite companion. Senior Andrea Johnson defines a friend as "someone who you can confide in and completely trust, who accepts your faults, and laughs with you no matter what," and Junior Jonathan Shearer says a friend "is forever unconditionally." Senior Crystal Koch defines a friend as "someone who can make you laugh until you spit milk out of your nose." Everyone has a different definition for friend.

Age, race, or gender do not interfere with a true friendship. There are many words that are synonymous to friend: pal, bud, amigo, bosom buddy, chum, comrade, and bro. No matter what you prefer, a friend is a friend.

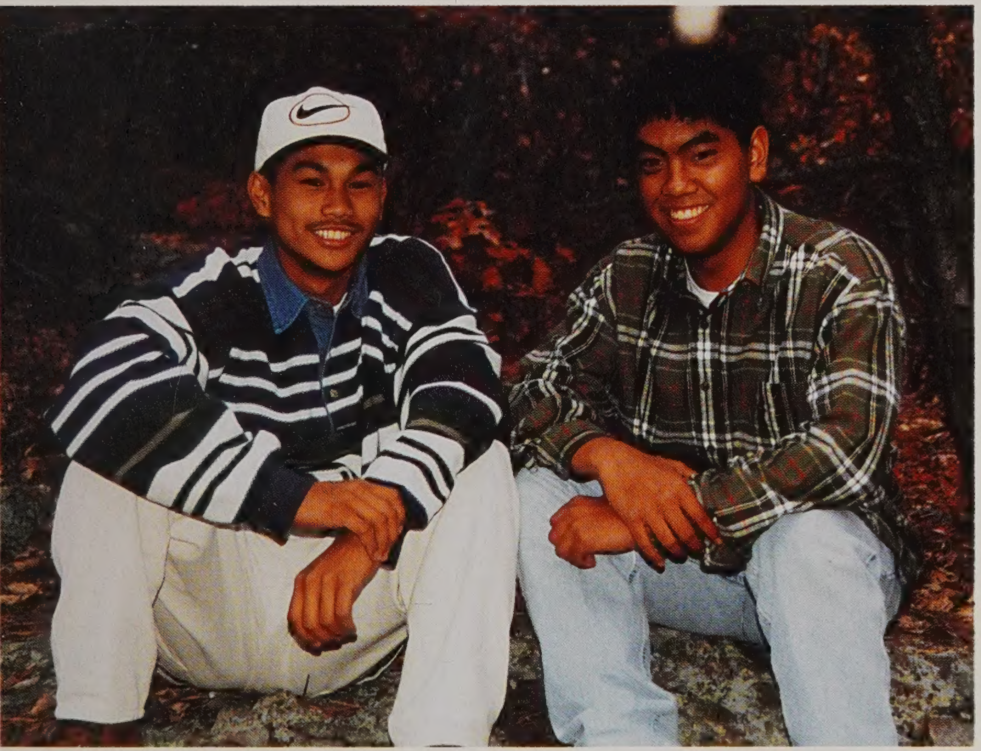


Jason Wooten and Adam Larue smile even though they could possibly face the wrath of Ms. High. That's true friendship.

Lesley Parr and Heidi Hill spend time together before Lesley makes her debut on the 1994 Homecoming court.

Amanda Young and Beth Holbrook take the time to capture one of those special moments ...even if Amanda doesn't seem that attentive.

A group of cheerleaders gather in front of the gas station before they begin their trek to their summer cheerleading camp.

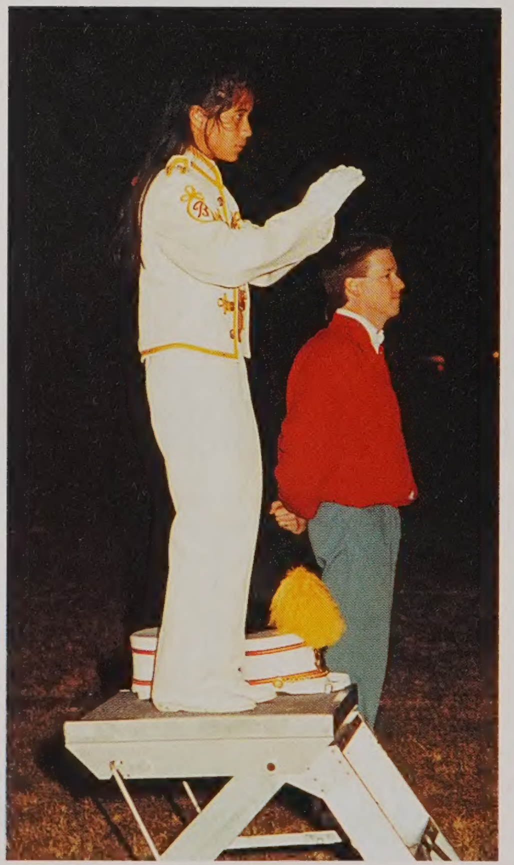


Marc Ferarra and Donny Rivera take time, while in Shenandoah National Park, to sit down and talk things over. After their senior year began, they didn't have much time to do anything except for school work.

Homecoming '94
A Stitch in Time

Homecoming is a time for Bayside friends and family to come back and experience the fun and excitement of Marlin pride. This year's homecoming had a special meaning to everyone involved because it sparked the beginning of construction for the new addition, as well as commemorated the first thirty years of Bayside High School reign of excellence. For the few teachers that have been here all thirty years like Ms. Nocher and Ms. Garrett, it was a nostalgic journey into years past.

One of Bayside's youngest fans watches as the homecoming court is announced.



Senior Dionne Paniza directs the band with authority.

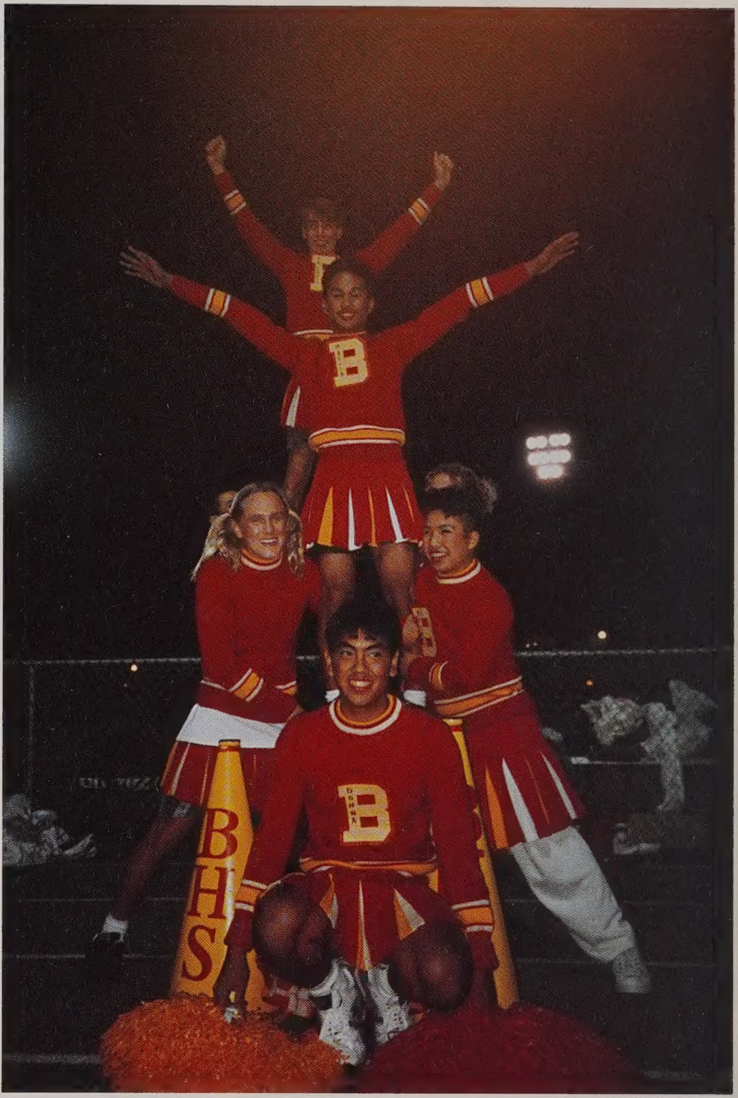
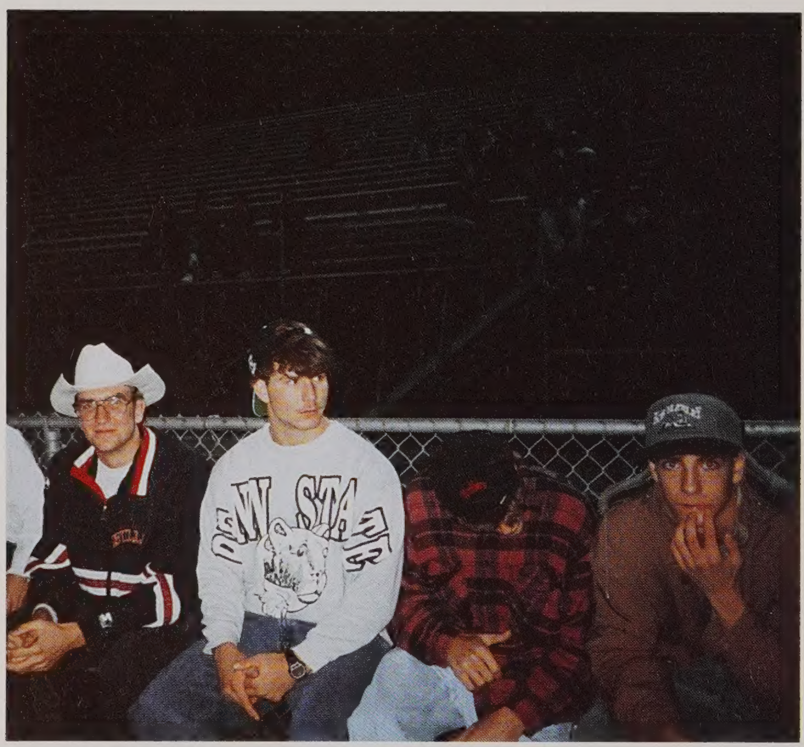
Those cheerleaders are something else. The senior cheerleaders were something else. What that is has yet to be discovered. Weeks of work went into their training and each of them achieved something really great. From the top down they are : Richard Wilson, Marc Ferrera, Donny Rivera and on the sides Howard Hodapp and Brent Ruffy.





The men behind the team. Harry Carawan and Willis Caraway coached the senior girls to victory. Early in the game they just watched in order to study the junior's game plan.

Underclassmen sure are strange. The junior cheerleaders seemed to be a strange bunch of kids. In this picture they mix a tribute to John Travolta and the Greek and Roman statues. The cheerleaders helped to keep team spirit high when the score was low.

We are the champions!!!! The victorious senior class team poses for their team picture that will forever immortalize them in powderpuff history.

Hail to the winners! Amanda Young, Lisa Gambito, and Beth Holbrook hoist up their women in victory after their 14 to 0 win over the Junior Class.

Powderpuff has been a tradition at Bayside for a long time. This year, the annual game was even more thrilling. The outcome was the same though (the seniors won 14-0). The freshmen and sophomores organized a halftime show to capture the audience's attention. As usual, all proceeds from the event went to various charities around the city.

Women of the night? Marc Ferrera and Brentdon Ruffy make themselves more comfortable during the Powderpuff game.

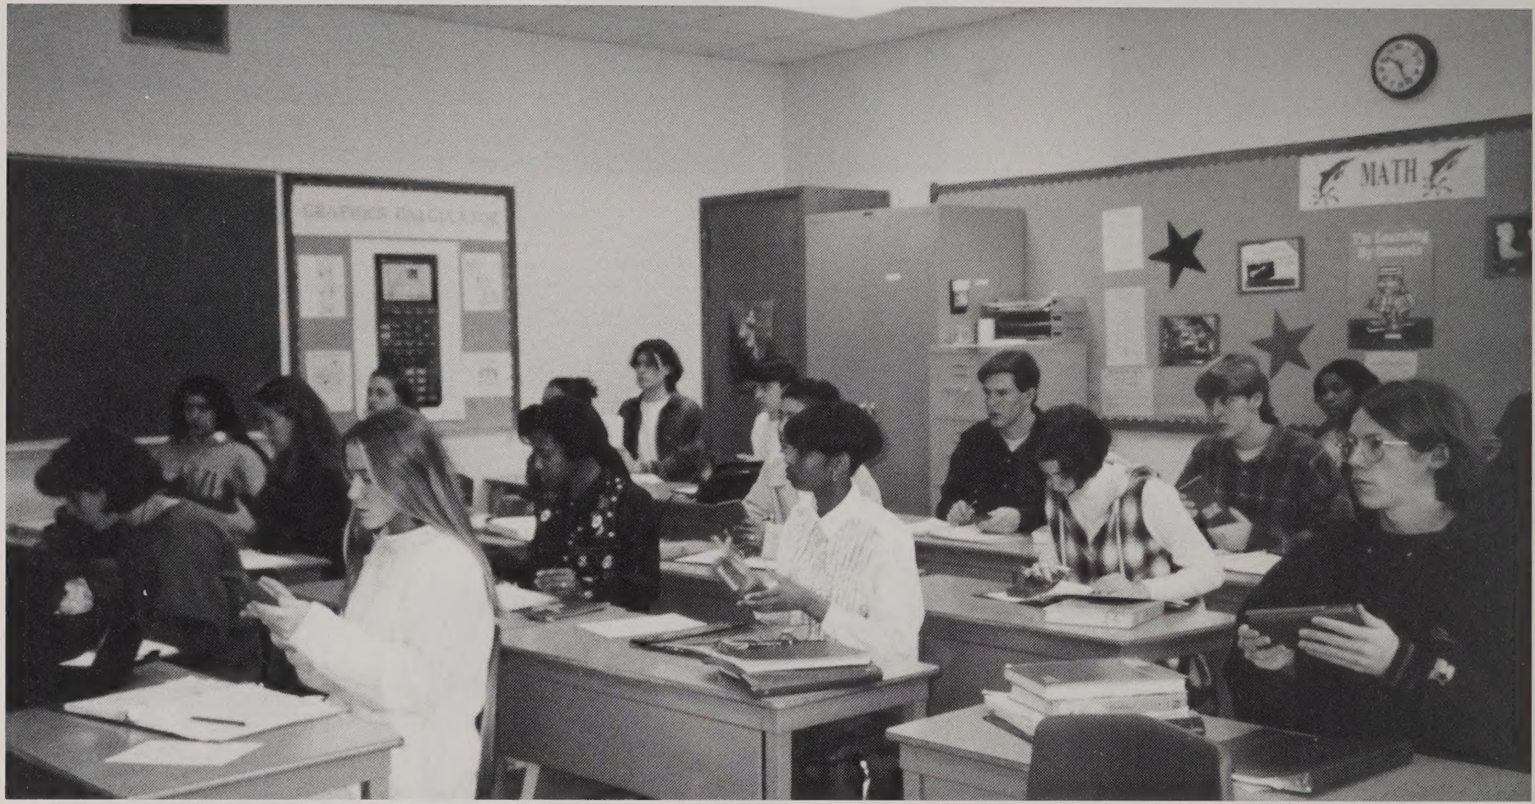
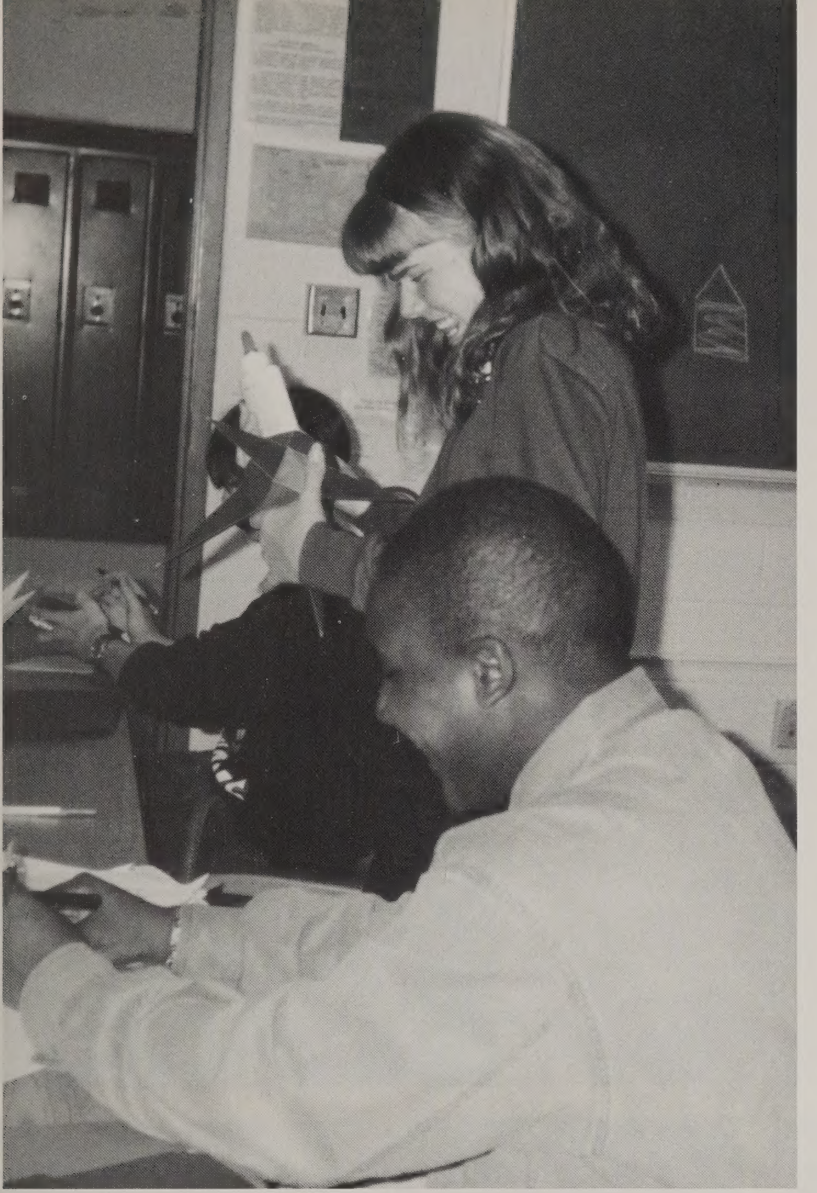
MATH

GEOMETRY ALGEBRA CALCULUS MATH APPLICATIONS CONSUMER MATH



Students put away their books and calculators after a long hour of serious math in Mrs. Butler's Math Analysis class.

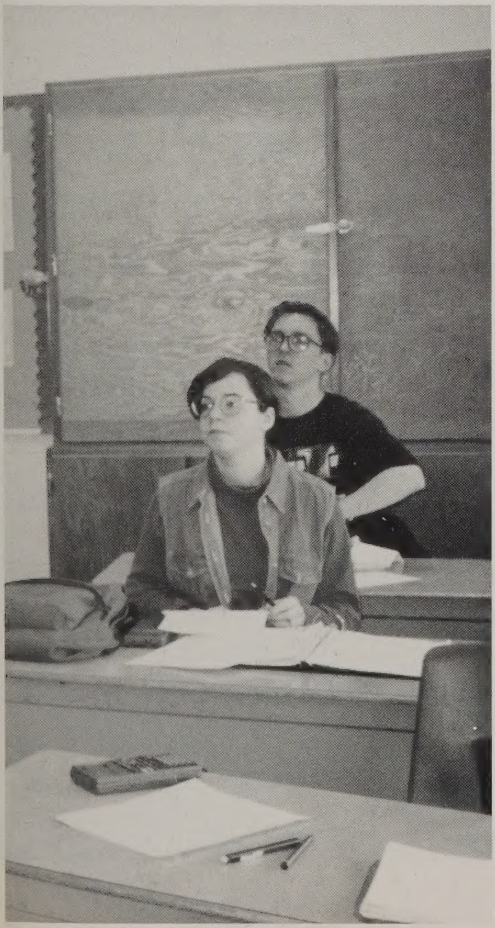
Ok, this is math class, and I am sitting here waiting for the bell to ring, but according to my calculations, I still have 6 minutes, 22 seconds, and 30 nanoseconds left.

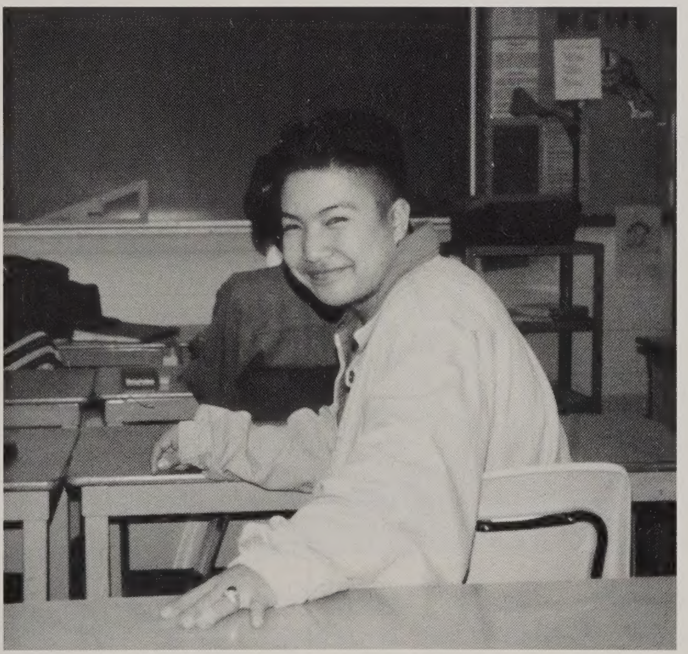


MATH

$A^2 + B^2 = C^2$

Sum this up. You see the world around you. There are many things you want to do, see, and experience, but you have no idea how to go about it. You're having a difficult time making a decision. You're not sure how much money you will actually take home from your job after taxes, or how much you will need to pay bills. The project you started can not be finished because you're not sure how to measure and balance. Math is not just a subject that some people are good in and others are not. Math is a science. Math is about decision making and logic. Math is about our future in the environment, in wildlife, in technology, and medicine. Math can be an obstacle behind you or it can be the pathway to your future. And that is why, at BHS, we have a team of dedicated math teachers paving the way for students to build new roads for themselves.





H_2O = Water

How can two parts of hydrogen and one part of oxygen make up water. Water is just plain water ... or is it?

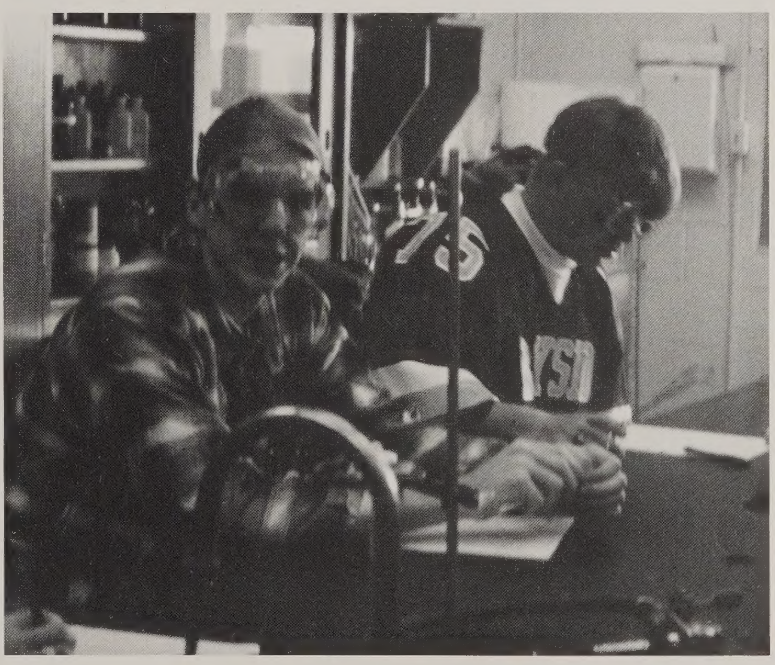
Why does sodium, a violent metal, and chlorine, a violent gas, come together in nature to make up a compound that is absolutely necessary to life? You know it as NaCl, table salt..

These and other mysteries of science are necessary to understand if you want to exist comfortably in your world.

Courtney Jarrett, Steven Chasmar, Denise Taylor, and Elizabeth Andersen are enjoying themselves in Mr. Doan's fun-filled Oceanography class.

Abe Andresen and Angela Temple discuss the molecular structure of Kryptonite. Pretty deep, huh?!

Kerri Theodorakis, Kelly Wynn, and Sonja Rieke work on a lab project in Mrs. Ohmes' Chemistry class. Wonder if they know what they're doing?



Brian Rautenberg and Allen Chewning are explining the wonders of the physical universe in Chemistry class.

Mrs. Zirkle's 3rd bell AP Biology class seem to be having a great time. Neil's even doing the YMCA.

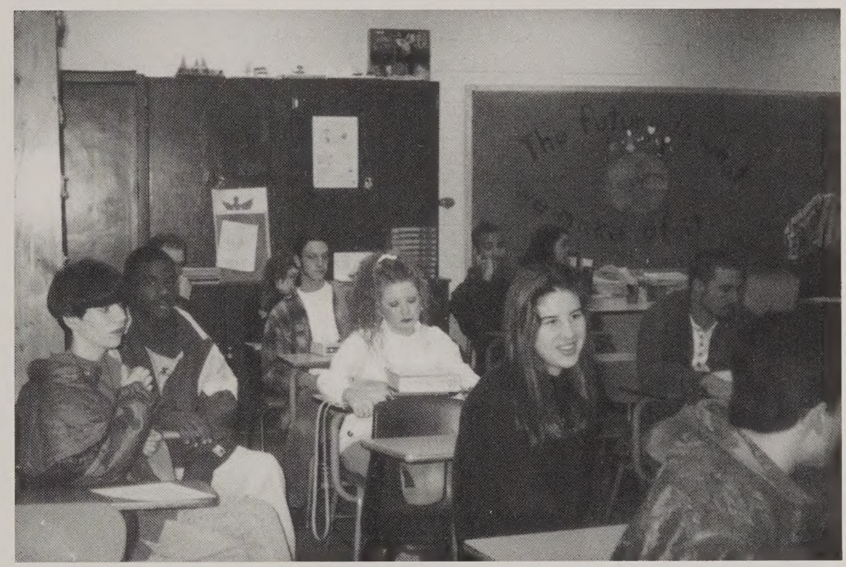
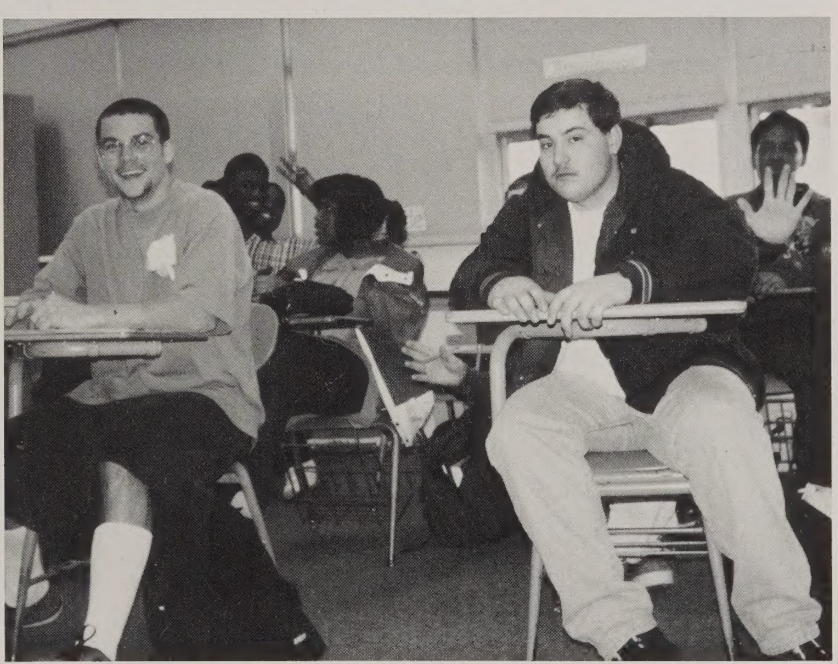
Q: What is a preposition?
A: Anything a plane can do to a cloud.

Do you remember learning little mnemonics to help you recall what a noun, a verb, an adjective, or a dangling modifier was? Unfortunately, learning English can be as frustrating as it is to teach. So, thank you to the wonderful English teachers at BHS who have created some fascinating lessons to help the students remember all of the tiny, yet important parts of writing and grammar. Most students dread writing a sentence much less a whole paper. Sometimes a student may ask, "Why do we have to read all of this stuff and write all of the time?" But, could you imagine if no one wrote or when they did, it was incorrect. Writing with no rules or consistancy would lead to confusion, misunderstanding, and no real documentation of life as it is. And, of course, no one would be able to read it anyway; reading would not exist. What kind of world would we live in without reading or writing? They are our link to the past and to the future. Let us never find out.





FOREIGN LANGUAGE

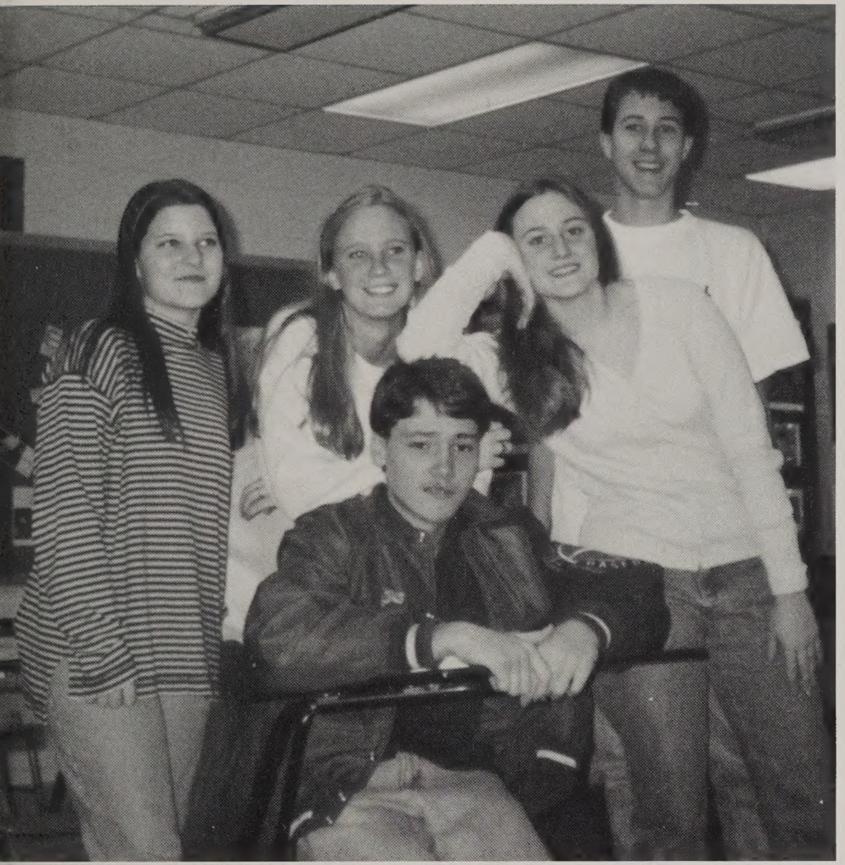
It's about language.
It's about us.



It's a whole new world out there for all to see and foreign languages open up the students eyes to new cultures, languages, social behavior, music, and food.

This year BHS students learned the importance of crossing roads with other countries and what they have to offer the rest of the world. In our everyday life we experience a world community.

Our school, for example, includes students from various nationalities; not to mention, the yearly student exchange program in which students from the United States and other countries move into each others homes and experience what life is like in that particular country.

Dana Raley, Erin Roberts, Keri Theodorakis, Scott Ackiss, and Duncan Whitley enjoy learning about Russian culture.

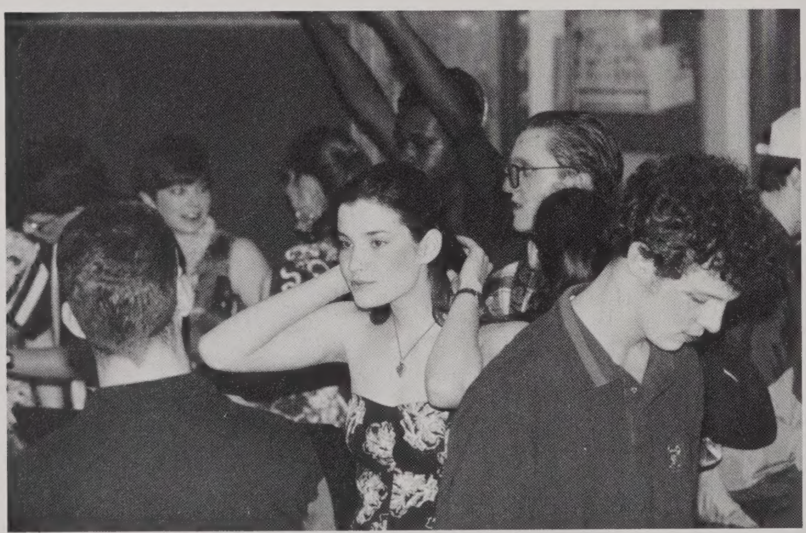
DRAMA

The past year has brought many wonderful productions to the stage by a group of talented BHS students. Thes students spent hours working on lines, props, and costumes to create such plays as, A Night of One Acts, The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds, Six Rooms River View, and The Tempest. This was a great and memorabl season! Good luck to all of the graduating seniors. Don't forget, we will always be family.



Nervous, Amanda? Bad hair day, Ariel? In the top two photos the cast and crew of the The Tempest anticipate their upcoming cues.

High Danielle! I hope your first year of high school was acceptable and I hope the same for the years to come. See what you could have been a part of if you had stayed on the best instrument in the world. I'm only kidding — I'm sure whatever you decide to do you will do well. See look for me. Done? Okay you probably didn't find me cause it's only my left side. Oh well. See you next year (on the bus) and enjoy your summer!

It's About

How You Play the Game

Winning isn't everything, and it isn't even the only thing. A win is the icing on an athlete's cake. A win is what makes every loss and every practice worth repeating. A loss is a reminder that one can only go higher. Learning from mistakes, striving for a goal is what a sport is about. So, it's not about whether you win or lose the match, it's about how you played the game.

Basketball

It's about Fame!!!

The stands were packed...The crowds went wild.....The Bayside Marlins gave their fans a show every game. The Marlins have been heading towards success for the past couple of years and this year they found fame. The Marlins finished the year with only two losses in the regular season for a 20-2 district record. Then it was off to the regional tournament. This year the Marlin Basketball team proved to be above the rest.

Moving up from the sideline and Junior Varsity, the Football team was subject to many changes. With the Seniors leaving and the underclassmen learning. On the sidelines and in the stands the spirit of Fooball was always in the air. From the words of Larry Chapman, Chris Turnage, and the Bayside JV, "All you gotta do is put your body to it, DO IT!"

High School Sweethearts

Do you have a name, or can I just call you mine? You never get a second chance to make a first impression. There are very few moments more important than the first in a relationship. Students took many different approaches. Some chose the direct approach: "Haven't I seen you before in my dreams." Many girls have heard the line, "Just checking your tag to see if you were made in heaven." Girls aren't always on the receiving end. In typing class, one sophomore suggested to her dream guy that they "rearrange the alphabet and put "u" and "i" together."

Many students think high school is all fun and games, but some students are serious about dating and relationships. Chris and Elizabeth have been together for a year and a half. Whether you made a best friend or met your high school sweetheart, high school relationships seem to be everlasting.

Tony Passaro and Tabitha Mitchell have been dating for almost two years and enjoy spending their spare time together.

Yeah, right, whatever!

For our darling daughter, Beth:
You have led us most gently
into the world of parenting...
From your joining us in San Diego
to your graduation in Virginia Beach,
You have given us more joy and happiness than we ever dreamed possible.
Your accomplishments continue to make us more proud of you as each milestone passes.
We look forward to enjoying future successes with you.

With all our love
and admiration,

Mom and Dad

Today we pay thanks to the man above for giving us a special daughter to raise and to love

Through you, you bring us that warm ray of SUNSHINE
as fresh and sweet as Spring with smiles and hugs and laughter and gifts of joy to bring

Jo, you should slow down and don't grow up too fast
Good things will come so make life last

Understand, have courage, be strong keeping that in mind you'll never go wrong

So keep things in life as simple as you can like the time we taught you to spell the word ElEvEn!

We love you Jo-Lyn more than life itself!
